The Signing Author

- You are the corresponding author and have the authority to sign on behalf of all other co-authors of the manuscript.
- To the best of knowledge of the signing author, all other co-authors (if any) have contributed to conception and design, manuscript preparation, read and approved the final version of the manuscript.
- To the best of knowledge of the signing author, all competing interests (if any) and all conflict of interests (if any) of all the authors have been declared.
- To the best of knowledge of the signing author, all authors do abide by the Association for Medical Ethics (AME) Ethical Rules of Disclosure, including funding and sponsorships.

Copyrights

- OA Publishing London authors retain the copyright to their work.
- When the authors retain the copyrights to their work, they are allowed unlimited use and/or distribution of their work without any form of restriction.
- In this model, articles are freely downloadable from OA Publishing London website, OA Publishing London journals' websites or any website supported by OA Publishing London.
- In this model, articles and data can be re-used and re-distributed without restrictions, as long as the original work of the authors is clearly and correctly identified and cited.

Before signing this agreement...

- The corresponding author confirms that this manuscript is not being considered for publication in any form.
- The corresponding author confirms that this manuscript was not previously published in any form or language.
- The corresponding author confirms that the manuscript does not breach copyright and that the corresponding author with their co-author(s) will be liable for any such breaches of copyright or any legal liability incurred through the publication of the manuscript.
- The corresponding author confirms that the manuscript contains no unlawful statement and any materials that may violate the rights of any person or entity.
- The corresponding author confirms that ethics committee approval and consenting (if applicable) have been obtained and the research (if applicable) was carried out according to the Declaration of Helsinki (1964).
